Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Union or Disunion: The Union Cannot and Shall Not Be Dissolved, Mr. Lincoln Not an Abolitionist I know I shall be called an Abolitionist. A Voice - Of course. Of course - and why not? Because I do not vote the Democratic ticket. And yet, when I reflect that such men as Henry Clay, William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor, and Winfield Scott, all natives of Virginia, have been held, by that party which denounces me, as unsound on the institution of Slavery - as being, in truth. Abolitionists of the darkest dye, and that such men as Martin Van Buren, Gen. Cass, Franklin Pierce, and. James Buchanan, are only to be trusted on this question, I must say I am reconciled to the denunciation of the party. Such a charge gives me no annoyance. I feel as comfortable under it as a man who has a note in Bank, with a plenty of money in his pocket; he can discharge the obligation whenever it meets his convenience; and in like manner, I can relieve myself of this imputation, whenever I desire to do so, or that it occasions me the least disturbance. All I have to do is to vote the Democratic ticket, and the charge will never be made again. For I have never heard the charge made yet against one of their own party, and have never known one of prominence in our party against whom it was not made. I gave my answer to the foul libel in 1856, when I said, He who calls me an Abolitionist, is either a knave or a fool, and not unfrequently both. I have nothing...
